20 for FBI National Security Investigations and Foreign Intelligence Collection (Oct.

22 3. I am familiar with the records and proceedings in this action, with the exception of 23 the in camera, ex parte materials submitted to the Court by the Government. Plaintiffs have 24 diligently developed the factual record relating to their claims. Although Plaintiffs contend that 25 their pleadings and evidence already set forth in the record of these proceedings are sufficient to 26 defeat the Government's "motion to dismiss, or, in the alternative, for summary judgment," 06 27 MDL 1791 Dkt. 253, should the Court believe that critical evidence is missing (whether by 28 operation of the state secrets privilege or otherwise), Plaintiffs respectfully submit that further

1 information supporting their claims is in the hands of other parties. Non-privileged discovery is 2 likely to reveal additional facts that will contribute to the genuine issues of material fact, thereby
3 warranting denial of the Government's "alternative" motion for summary judgment.

4 4. The information that Plaintiffs intend to uncover through discovery exists in 5 several sources, as outlined below. As a preliminary matter, Plaintiffs would ask the Court to 6 require Defendants to answer the Master MCI and Verizon Consolidated Complaint, the Bready
7 Complaint, the Chulsky Amended Complaint, and the Riordan Complaint, thereby potentially 8 generating admissions that would support Plaintiffs' claims.

9 5. Under the multi-step protocol of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act
10 ("FISA"), Section 1806(f), whereby Congress superseded the common law state secrets privilege 11 to allow courts to review sensitive material on all motions "to discover or obtain applications or 12 orders or other materials relating to electronic surveillance," 50 U.S.C. § 1806, and under Section 13 1845(f) authorizing judicial review on motions "to discover, obtain, or suppress evidence or 14 information obtained or derived from the use of a pen register or trap and trace device," 50 U.S.C.
15 § 1845(f), Plaintiffs would propound targeted discovery on MCI and Verizon seeking information
16 on the interception and disclosure of Plaintiffs' communications and records to the Government.
17 To the extent that the Court finds that it needs additional information on the challenged 18 surveillance, and the Government asserts that such information would harm national security, the 19 procedures of Sections 1806(f) and 1845(f) provide for the requisite discovery without undue risk 20 of public disclosure.

21 6. Specifically, Plaintiffs would propound targeted discovery on MCI and Verizon on 22 the existence of the content monitoring program, whereby MCI and Verizon could, among other 23 things, "confirm or deny the existence of a certification authorizing monitoring of communication 24 content through a combination of responses to interrogatories and in camera review by the 25 Court." Hepting v. AT&T Corp., 439 F. Supp. 2d 974, 997 (N.D. Cal. 2006).

26 7. After the Hepting opinion was rendered, the Government and Verizon made 27 statements confirming the existence of the Government's domestic monitoring of 28 communications records. See e.g., Ex. HH (March 20, 2007 testimony of FBI General Counsel

1 Caproni before Congress); Ex. Z (April 11, 2007 statement of Verizon Wireless Regional 2 President Kelly Kurtzman on PBS NewsHour). Plaintiffs would propound targeted discovery on 3 MCI and Verizon on the existence of the records monitoring program, including whether either 4 received certification authorizing monitoring of communications records, through a combination
5 of responses to interrogatories and in camera review by the Court.

6 8. Plaintiffs would serve requests for admissions regarding the facts of MCI and 7 Verizon's interception of Plaintiffs' communications for the Government.

8 9. Plaintiffs would serve requests for admissions regarding the facts of MCI and 9 Verizon's interception of Plaintiffs' call records for the Government.

10 10. Plaintiffs would serve requests for admissions regarding the facts of MCI and 11 Verizon's disclosure of Plaintiffs' communications to the Government.

12 11. Plaintiffs would serve requests for admissions regarding the facts of MCI and 13 Verizon's disclosure of Plaintiffs' call records to the Government.

14 12. The Government has previously stated in open court in Hepting that AT&T 15 documents obtained by Mark Klein and accompanying declarations, "which documents allegedly 16 demonstrate how AT&T has implemented a warrantless surveillance system on behalf of the 17 NSA" did "not . . . contain classified information." Hepting, 439 F.Supp.2d at 979, 989 (citing 18 6/23/06 Transcript at 76:9-20). The MCI and Verizon Plaintiffs would serve requests for 19 admissions, interrogatories, and document production requests on MCI and Verizon seeking 20 information on their network architecture and the manner in which they keep their call records.

21 13. Plaintiffs would seek to obtain declarations from, or propound depositions on 22 written questions to, the confidential sources quoted in the news reports (set forth in Exhibits 23 described supra) to overcome the hearsay nature of the news reports in which they were quoted, 24 to the extent Plaintiffs are able to identify those confidential sources.

25 14. Plaintiffs would take depositions of Qwest executives regarding public statements
26 made by Qwest executives that the NSA asked Qwest to intercept and disclose customer 27 communications and records. See Ex. Y.

28 15. Each of the topics of targeted discovery outlined above is highly likely to yield

1 further evidence of genuine dispute of material facts relating to Plaintiffs' claims.

2 I declare under penalty of perjury of the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true
3 and correct. Executed this 22nd day of June, 2007, at San Francisco, California.
